

MEMENTOS FROM OUT OF THE PAST

WM. C. HOLT, Carrie Nation Hatchet pin, American Centennial 1876 vase, and Carrie Nation.

Carrie Nation Pin In Form Of Miniature Hatchet, American Centennial Vase Preserved By "Pinky" Holt

By Bill Rodgers

PORTERVILLE — The old saying that "Gold Is Where You Find It" might well be paraphrased into "Historical Moments Are Where You Find Them" if the experiences of Wm. C. "Pinky" Holt of Porterville are any criteria.

Holt has what is probably a very rare item, a pin in the form of a hatchet that the late Carrie A. Nation, temperance crusader of the past century, sold to help finance her crusade that was marked by militant action by herself and her women followers who marched into saloons and broke bottles and barrels of liquor with their hatchets.

The pin was found by an employee of Holt, Tony Rodriguez, while digging for bottles in an old stage station refuse pit between Artesia and Carlsbad, in New Mexico.

Originally, the hatchet probably had a metal facing and a small stone mount of some kind. And it is interesting that the name "Carry" on the hatchet is misspelled. Or is it? Webster dictionaries list it both ways.

Since Carrie Nation was in her heyday before and around the turn of the century (she died in 1911) historians might speculate that she was aboard a horse-drawn stage taking her campaign west when a stop was made at the New Mexico station.

Never backward about expressing her beliefs, she probably let it be known that she had the hatchets for sale, and men around the station, not wanting to argue with her and quite likely not agreeing with her, bought the hatchets, then, after the stage had pulled out, threw them away.

At any rate, Holt has had the historic memento cleaned up by a jeweler and is considering having a cast made to reproduce the pin.

As for the vase that carries the words, "Centennial 1876," and is designed after the hand that holds the torch on the Statue of Liberty, Holt received it back in 1947 from Roy Wiley, for whom he worked. It is perhaps as rare now as a Carrie Nation hatchet.

CRAZY DAYS QUEEN

Crazy people will be going crazier in downtown Porterville stores today, Friday and Saturday, as crazy merchants, waving their HOPA banners, offer crazy bargains while crazy clerks in crazy clothes perform crazy antics as they wrap up the crazy bargains.

It's all part of annual Crazy Days in Porterville, during which store folks sort of go off their rockers and have fun while offering fabulous merchandise at fabulously special prices.

Many HOPA (Heart Of Porterville Association) stores will be open Friday night until 9 p.m., then on Saturday everyone will really go crazy with a crazy-crazy sidewalk sale.

Everybody is invited to come to town during the three fun-filled Crazy Days, in fact anyone who misses this crazy event could be a bit teched in the haid themselves.

As the HOPA man said, it's the craziest show on earth, which translated means, it's the craziest show on earth - in Porterville - now - and for the next two days.

BICENTENNIAL PROGRAMS

"Civil War" August 14 At Camp Nelson

CAMP NELSON — Civil War will break out in this mountain community on August 14, but the war will be all for Bicentennial fun and history as Union and Confederate troops set up authentic campsites and engage in battle skirmishes.

Staging the event will be members of the Northern California Civil War Association of America, started five years ago by Col. Vern Johnson, of Fresno (Union) and Captain Stanley Olson, of Kingsburg (Confederacy).

Association members will have an authentic campsite area which the public is invited to view and inspect. In the late afternoon they will stage a full battle skirmish lasting 30 minutes.

Original replicas of authentic equipment will be used - cannons, rifles, hand guns - with the skirmish ending in a saber battle.

Following the skirmish, the Camp Nelson lodge will offer a traditional southern menu, and a "Blue and Grey costume ball" will close the night's activities.

All association members are oriented in history of the Civil War. Johnson and Olson have been enthusiastically received at schools and fraternal organizations throughout Fresno

Tree Dedication August 8 At Balch Park

VISALIA — Dedication of the official Bicentennial tree for Tulare county is scheduled for Sunday, August 8 at 2:00 p.m. in County owned Balch park, with ceremonies under the direction of the Tulare County Bicentennial commission.

Rodney Homer, of Porterville, chairman of the commission, will act as Master of Ceremonies; dedicatory address will be delivered by First District Supervisor Donald Baird in whose district Balch Park lies; short speeches will be delivered by Annie Mitchell, of Visalia, on the History of Balch Park, and by Elaine Egenes of Springville, on the History of the Redwoods.

The tree to be dedicated is a giant redwood situated across the road from the registration office at Balch park, where a suitable monument has already been installed denoting the significance of the tree to be honored. This giant redwood is estimated to be about 1800 years old and is one of the most beautiful trees in the area.

Wayne Robertson, secretary of the County Bicentennial commission says that the public is invited to attend the dedication ceremony. He also announced that the Plano 4-H club will serve refreshments after the dedication, as well as take part in a flag salute.

LAMB, PORK AND BEEF ON MENU FOR PORTERVILLE FAIR BARBECUE

PORTERVILLE — A choice of beef, pork or lamb will be offered at a Porterville fair barbecue set for September 18 in the new barn on the fair grounds, with all proceeds from the event to go toward retirement of the "balance due" on the extensive renovation and rebuilding of fair facilities earlier this year.

Fair Director Joe Mosconi who is heading up the barbecue committee says that tickets will go on sale August 16 at $5.00 per person. Serving is planned from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.; a number of door prizes will be given away; continuous entertainment is being booked.

Three different menus will be served, Mosconi says: Santa Maria barbecued beef with French bread, beans and salad; spit-roasted pork, with corn on the cob, applesauce, salad and French bread; and lamb shishkebob with rice pieloff, Peda bread and salad.

Beef, hogs and lambs were donated for the barbecue during the Porterville fair in May.

Working with Mosconi as coordinators are Bill Taber, Bill Hebel, and Fair Directors Gerald Lumley, Jim Huesdens, and Loren Schmid; other committee members will be named by Mosconi.

ENTRIES ALREADY BEING RECEIVED FOR '76 COUNTY FAIR, SEPT. 21-26

TULARE—Entries are already being received for 55th annual Tulare County fair that opens September 21 for a run through September 26, with exhibits and entertainment geared to a Bicentennial theme - "A Stars And Stripes A-Fair."

Premium lists, mailed out early in July as supplements to the county's three daily newspapers, are now available at all chambers of commerce offices in the county and at the County Fairgrounds office in Tulare, along with entry cards.

Junior exhibitors are asked to check with their leaders if they have questions concerning fair entries - Future Farmers with their high school agricultural department leaders; 4-H members with their club leaders.

If there are questions that cannot be answered Fair Manager Al Slinde says that the office staff at the fairgrounds will be glad to give assistance.

Entry closing date for the 1976 fair is September 1; entry cards can be brought to the fair office in Tulare, 715 East Alpine, or mailed to P.O. Box 777, Tulare, Ca. 93274.

Now serving on the 24th District Agricultural Association board of directors that operates the Tulare County fair are: Burke C. Thompson, of Lindsay, chairman; Amelio Curti, Waukena, vice chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Beck, Tipton; Edward Tellalian, Orosi; Tony Nunes, Tulare; Ida May Van De Venter and Arturo Vallejo, Visalia; and

HI-4-H MEMBERS ARE SPENDING WEEK VISITING IN ADAMS CO., COLORADO

DUCOR — Two Ducor 4-H members, Debra Todd and Mike Flynn were among 40 Tulare County Hi 4-H'ers who left Saturday for Adams county, Colorado for a week's stay with Colorado 4-H'ers who came to California last summer.

The Tulare County 4-H'ers travelled from Visalia to Sacramento by bus, boarded Amtrack for a 30 hour trip to Denver, and started a busy week visiting Colorado's Amusement park, touring a brewery, sightseeing trips, hayrides, ice cream socials, dancing etc.

Ducor's Mike Flynn will be staying with Jeff Palombo of Brighton, Colorado and Debbie Todd, of Ducor, will stay with none other than Debra Todd of Broomfield, Colorado. After the busy week they will leave Denver via United Airlines for a two hour flight home arriving in Fresno at 9:50 p.m., Sunday, August 1.

The Hi 4-H'ers have worked all year earning $2500 for the trip by selling soft drinks at meetings, operating a food booth at the County Demonstration day, the Dress Review, the Farm Equipment

FROM UP Oregon way - Monmouth, to be more exact - long-time Porterville resident, Laura Crosiar sends word that we better get on the ball and start publishing news about "Women For Agriculture," an organization that, frankly, we didn't know existed. But Laura tells us she has been involved for seven years in the nation's first such group, formed in Oregon, and says that now there is a new California "Women For Agriculture" chapter in the Coachella valley and that a national coalition group, "American Agri-Women," is working to bring understanding and factual education to consumers concerning the economic value of U.S. Agriculture. Any local women who are interested can write to Laura, Rt. 1, Box 194, Monmouth, Oregon 97361. As for the Crosiar family, Roland and Laura are still in the sheep business - registered Hampshires - and are growing hay and wheat on their Oregon ranch; son John, with a master's degree in Ag. journalism is assistant manager of the University of Idaho news bureau; son George is farming sweet corn, wheat and sugar beet seed crops. Finally, Laura, a Tribune subscriber, says, "The improvements at the Porterville Fairgrounds look just great. I have a nostalgic pride in seeing the fair continue to thrive..."

A MAJOR topic of conversation along the avenue - when or if City Councilwoman Betty Ferguson Valliere, who recently married City Manager

Ed. Valliere, will resign from the council. Betty says she does not intend to resign; City Attorney Jack Quirk says there is no law forcing her to resign; from usually reliable (or unreliable) sources we learn that the four other city council members are pretty much agreed on who will be appointed to fill her unexpired term when Betty does resign. ... Actually, the situation in which the wife of the city manager sits on the city council, is completely incompatible with the concept of council-manager relationship.

SOME MEDALLIONS, commemorating Porterville's part in America's Bicentennial celebration, are still available. See Judi Gibbons. ... Bob Hicks, the man who for years has been in charge of the Walt Disney development at Mineral King, said this week that the Disney people have not given up on the project and will be coming along with new information. Personally, we're fed up with efforts to cast Disney and the Forest Service as the bad guys. ... Really, there is plenty of room in Porterville for the chamber of commerce and HOPA. Commercial business promotions should have been taken out of the chamber years ago; now both the chamber and HOPA have their own programs to sell. Personally, we'll buy both.

Wheat, barley and oat production in California is forecast to be 16 per cent below 1975 production levels.

Total California grape crush in 1975 - 2,169,000 tons - showed a decline for the second straight year.

ACE REID, right, with Charles Schreiner III, center, of the YO Ranch, who led the symbolic 1976 Texas Tech University Bicentennial Trail drive to herald the opening of Tech's Ranching Heritage Center, and Raymond House, Dodge City marshal. The 1976 drive was held June 27-July 2 from San Antonio to Lubbock; the Ranching Heritage Center opening, a national Bicentennial event, was held July 2-5.

ACE REID, WHOSE CARTOONS APPEAR IN FARM TRIBUNE, IS RAMROD ON 500-MILE TEXAS LONGHORN DRIVE

KERRVILLE, TEX. — Ace Reid, creator of the "Cowpokes" cartoons which entertain millions of Americans, took a refresher course in cowboyism this year.

He signed on as a ramrod for a Bicentennial trail drive of Longhorns during a 500-mile Texas tour that ended July 2 at the Ranching Heritage Center at The Museum of Texas Tech University.

The experience wasn't a new one for Reid. He helped ramrod the Centennial Longhorn Trail Drive from San Antonio to Dodge City, Kan., in 1966.

"I'm 10 years older but not a lot wiser," Reid said when he agreed to make the 1976 drive from San Antonio to Lubbock, Tex.

In reality, trail driving - even with modern hazards - apparently agrees with the Reid family. Four generations have "given it a go." And Reid grew up on a 4,000-acre Texas ranch during the grim depression years.

"I was 21 years old before I ever laid eyes on a fat cow," says the creator of the hard-pressed

Zeb and Jake, the forever broke cartoon cowboys for whom everything goes awry in very funny ways.

The 1976 Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive, June 27-July 2, celebrated the opening of the Ranching Heritage Center. The formal opening of the center, July 2-5, was a national Bicentennial event.

Making the dedicatory remarks was Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson who with her husband, the late President Johnson, owned a working Hereford ranch.

Dale Robertson, who has depicted the American westerner in film and television, was master of ceremonies for the dedication.

The 12-acre center is a collection of a score of authentically restored ranching structures depicting the history of America's ranching industry. Special tours have drawn more than 100,000 visitors to the unfinished site since the first building arrived in 1970.

Charles Schreiner III was trail boss for the symbolic drive of 70 descendants of the incredible Longhorn cattle, described by some as "wild as a tornado, stronger than a blue norther and as smart as an Apache."

Participating were the cities of San Antonio - where trail

BACK SEAT DRIVERS WANTED BY STATE DVM

PORTERVILLE — Verne Van Duzer, manager of the local Department of Motor Vehicle office, asks interested citizens to return their applications to serve on the "Backseat Drivers" Public panel as soon as possible.

Purpose of this panel is to give local citizens a voice in the operation of the California Department of Motor Vehicles. Van Duzer stressed, "Although the public panel will be advisory in nature, its concerns and suggestions will be channeled to the policy makers."

The panel plans to meet monthly, and it will require two or three hours a month of each member's time, the manager estimated.

Volunteers to serve on the panel are being sought from among high school students, senior citizens, homemakers, salaried workers, and members of social or cultural organizations which are active in the community.

Persons interested in serving on the "Backseat Driver" Public panel can contact Van Duzer at the local DMV office or by phone at 784-1186.

GOOD THINGS FROM THE GOOD EARTH

DOGS CAN DIE FROM HEAT IN PARKED CARS

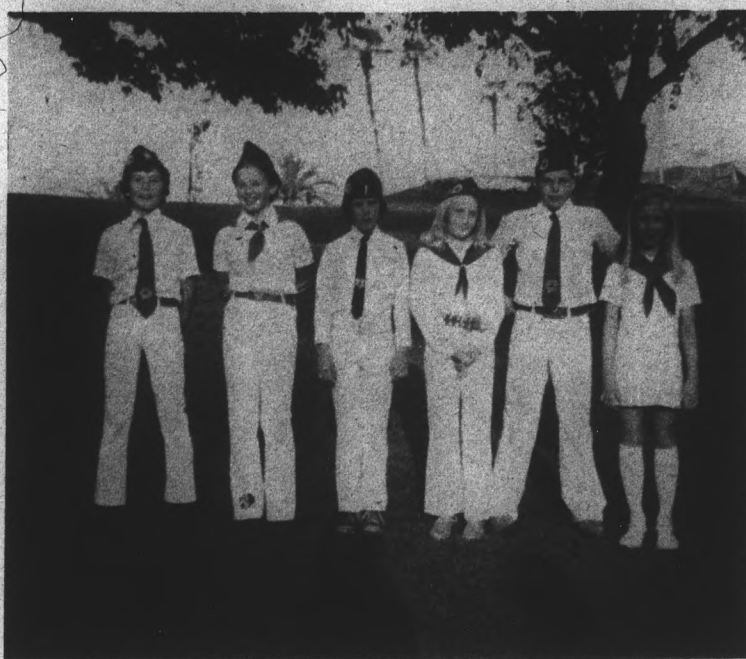

VISALIA — In a one week period, the Tulare County Humane society has answered nine calls on dogs that had become overheated from being left in parked cars. In one instance, the windows were rolled up and the car locked, presenting a problem to Officer Herman Zearley, who answered the call. When put on the loud speaker of the grocery store, the owner rushed out and exclaimed, "I didn't think."

Unthinking people do not realize the buildup of heat inside a car can kill a pet very quickly, Zearley says. Heat prostration can occur in a very short time and those that survive can suffer brain damage.

On the average summer day in Tulare county, he said, the temperature inside a parked car with the windows down can reach an unbearable 160 degrees. A dog does not sweat, its lungs are its main cooling system. With nothing but overheated air to breathe, a pet can't last very long in a hot parked car.

Zearley further said that overexercise and overheating are the main cause of heat prostration SUCCESS VALLEY 4-H officers for the coming year are left to right, Alan Gill, president; Julie Chamberlain, vice-president; Darin Larson, secretary; Debra Glenn, reporter; Rocky Day, treasurer; and Karen Larson, song leader. drives were originating as early as 1779; Kerrville, San Angelo, Stamford, and Midland. The cattle were trailed along thoroughfares in those cities to introduce many to the legendary breed that made men of greenhorns for more than a century.

"The trail drive," Schreiner said, "should cause Americans to look over their shoulders. If people don't think about their heritage and let their roots run deep, they can't progress."

"Americans should be proud of their ancestors, proud of the people who built this country," he said.

Ace Reid agrees.

"You don't hear much about country folks in the evening news or read about them in the papers," he said, "but they're out there, millions of 'em, working hard, minding their own business and getting by as best they know how."

"They're the folks who keep this country going and have for the past 200 years - tending crops, feeding cattle, paying their taxes and raising their kids, and treating the land with the kind of affection people in the big cities have a hard time understanding."

The trail drive for Reid was a renewal of his affection for those country people, the ranchers who helped build America.

And he was in on it from the start, while the Longhorns were being trained for the trail at Schreiner's YO Ranch near Mountain Home, Tex., to the end at the Ranching Heritage Center at Texas Tech University.

Association Tests 124 Dairy Herds In June

VISALIA — The Tulare Dairy Herd Improvement association had 124 herds with a total of 53,396 cows on test during the month of June, and 45,043 cows were tested for the month.

A grade Holstein, owned by Argentieri-Knudsen of Visalia completed the highest milk production record during the month of June, producing 29,879 pounds of milk and 807 pounds of butterfat during her 295-day lactation. The last half of this lactation was on 3-time daily milking.

Leading first-calf heifer to finish a lactation during the month of June was a grade Holstein owned by Fernandes and Fernandes of Tulare. This heifer produced 24,508 pounds of milk and 916 pounds of butterfat during her 283-day lactation.

County Fair . . .

Organizations that will be assisting with the barbecue include the Poplar chamber of commerce, the Filipino Community, the Mexican Catholic Organization, Porterville Jaycees and Porterville Breakfast Lions.

"This will be the biggest and most colorful barbecue ever offered in Porterville," Mosconi says, "and the setting will be unique - in the fair's new livestock barn."

Although a final audit of fair construction costs has not been completed, fair directors face a debt of about $50,000 on which interest must be paid and the principal amount reduced as rapidly as possible.

The September barbecue is the first major event that directors have scheduled to pay off the debt on the "new" fair; the multi-use facilities now on the fair grounds have a replacement value of well over a quarter million dollars.

CITIZENS CAN "SPEAK THEIR PIECE" REGARDING PESTICIDE REGULATIONS

SACRAMENTO — Citizens can "speak their piece" concerning operation of the Environmental Protection Agency at a meeting in Sacramento, August 13, 9 a.m. in the State Department of Food and Agriculture auditorium.

The meeting, one of four being held nationally, will be conducted by the committee that advises National EPA Administrator Russell E. Train on pesticide issues and problems.

Purpose of the meeting is to allow persons who cannot attend meetings in Washington a chance to express their views on pesticide matters that affect them.

Comments and suggestions received will be considered by the committee in its advice to Train on controversial pesticides policy matters, a communication from Washington states.

No reservations or advance notification is necessary for persons wishing to attend the meeting. Formal presentations are limited to 15 minutes.

Free entertainment will be presented on the fair grounds daily, including outdoor attractions, stage shows, motorcycle racing, horse shows, cattle penning, cutting horse competition, and tractor pulling contests.

Annual Tulare County Fair parade is set for 10 a.m., Tuesday, September 21 through downtown Tulare and out to the fair grounds, after which county and state dignitaries will officially open the fair.

PROPERTY ACCESS CASE TAKEN TO SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON — Citing concern of "agricultural employers throughout the country" the American Farm Bureau Federation has filed a brief with the U.S. Supreme Court in support of a petition by California growers to deny farm labor organizers blanket access to farm properties.

THE CASE grows out of a controversial 1975 rule of the California Agricultural Labor Relations Board (CALRB) granting union organizers wide access to farm properties to attempt to recruit farm workers to membership.

Subsequently, implementation of the access rule was temporarily enjoined by the U.S. District Court in Fresno and by two Superior Courts of California. However, on March 4, 1976, the California Supreme Court, by a margin of 4-3, held in favor of the rule.

Farm Bureau's brief in support pleads that the access rule is an unconstitutional violation of property rights, and that ample alternative means to contact farm workers is available to union organizers.

California cotton growers planted an estimated 1,050,000 acres in 1976, about 17 per cent above the 1975 total.

OUR TOWN

I don't know why I'm writing this thing. Everyone is in Europe, or driving across country or on T.V. watching the Olympics. Just because I'm afraid of the Editor of this paper I am typing my little heart out. There are so many things I would rather do. Fear is so sad.

Trying to sell one's house is very traumatic. The Real Estate people never pick a convenient time to arrive with potential buyers. A phone call, then a mad rush. Send guests home with the chips and dips, fill the dishwasher with anything loose in the kitchen, dump things in the clothes hampers, and tie the dog up. The buyer arrives and is gone in about ten minutes. He didn't want this type of house anyway. The kitchen is too small, and the formal dining room isn't formal at all, and the back yard looks like a lot of work. Away they go to another housewife who has a lot of weird things in her dishwasher. One agent kept going to a hall closet and opening it up wide to show how wonderful it was. I finally had to straighten it all up. That's when I found the old hunting jacket with the dead dove in it.

Our neighborhood is so great. When one of us leaves the house for a small time, we know it is being watched by the best. Just now we are all busy. One is watering the yard and we are all playing dragon. We not only are glad to help, we know when we leave we will have good dragons watching our house too. One lovely aspect of OUR TOWN.

I imagine teachers are starting to think of what to put on bulletin boards about now. I wonder if they are driving past their closed school rooms, and wishing for school to start. Schools always look so lonely when they are closed up, and no cute decorations on the windows. I really loved teaching. But when a teacher starts to dread going back to school, and to resent having to put up attractive bulletin boards, and to lose her humor and cool, it is time to quit. I don't think I would like to teach now-a-days. There is too much wasting time with discipline, and not having the parents back up the teachers. But maybe the same teachers are good and have little discipline problems, and we just hear about the teachers who aren't keeping ahead of the children. Keeping thirty children busy and learning is a big job. If it is done correctly.

We caught a mouse the other day. We caught it with an old-fashioned mouse trap that has been in the family for years. Our friends insist that the trap is an antique and should be treated with reverence, not catching dirty mice with it. I didn't know.

DICK NEECE is in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, and if you want his address, call me. He would love to hear from friends.

Happiness is having known HELEN LAMB and her zest for life. I miss her.
